Subject: don't get me wrong...

Hey Nelson –
I don't know if something's up, but it just seems like I haven't seen you in a really long time, and you haven't responded to any of my emails in a while... If you want to talk about ... whatever ... Give me a call.
Let me know.

Subject: where are you?

Nelson, I called your place and I stopped by your office, and you weren't there, and you haven't answered my emails and I wish you would just ... acknowledge my presence or something. Yeah. Maybe talk to you later.

Subject: what's your problem?

Hey, if you're having some problem with our relationship, ignoring it won't fix anything. I'm not going to just sit here waiting for you to start talking. If you have something to say, just say it. This is ridiculous. I don't know where you are, and nobody else seems to either. I don't know if I should be worried or angry. I don't like being so in the dark, and I don't want to sound nagging, but if you're cheating on me, then that's it. Call me or email me back to tell me otherwise.

Subject: invisible boyfriend?

No one knows what's going on in your life. No one knows where you are, or what you're doing, and people ask me, and all I can say is that I don't know anything. I don't appreciate being ditched without a word. If you're seeing someone else, or if you're in some sort of trouble, can you just TELL me?
